Dear friend,

Due to the current COVID situation, many of us would most likely be staying home more often. This may seem stifling to some, but it is not necessarily so. Books can help! They allow us to travel to places and explore lands beyond our imagination. We can experience adventure, mystery, and magic. We can meet unforgettable people, walk in their shoes, and even travel back and forth in time. We can do all this and more, while staying right where we are. So, let’s read a book today! — Linda Yew
